Solon Urges Program Equal To Demands

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), applauding recent moves to strengthen U.S. missile capability, said today he hopes "the sense of urgency will not evaporate as time goes on."

Humphrey called on the Eisenhower administration to "come to Congress with a program that is equal to the demands of national security and survival, and commensurate with the scope of the Soviet menace"—even if such a program should require higher taxes.

The Minnesota Senator spoke out in an interview after these developments:

1. The Air Force announced a number of organizational shifts in connection with efforts to put long range U.S. missiles on an operational basis. One of the most important of these moves was transfer of responsibility for both intercontinental and intermediate range ballistic missiles in their "initial operational capability phase" from the Air Research and Development Command to the Strategic Air Command. SAC has charge of this nation's retaliatory striking force, including long range nuclear bombers.

2. Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, also announced the Air Force is working on an anti-missile missile called the "Wizard." White said its perfection "will be a terrifically difficult problem, but I think we will lick it."

Humphrey welcomed these new moves, along with a recently announced decision to order production of the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force's Thor, both of them intermediate range ballistic missiles with a planned range of up to 1,500 miles.

He said testimony before the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, investigating the U.S. missile program, indicates the Russians are ahead of the United States in important areas of rocketry.

Humphrey said "It is more important to have the balance of power on the side of the free world than it is to have a balanced budget."

White made the announcement of the new Air Force moves in the missiles field during a talk before the National Press Club yesterday.

France Hopes To Become Nuclear Power

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (AP)—France is reported moving ahead with a nuclear weapons program despite U.S.-British arguments that French resources could be better used on other things.

Informed sources said today French Premier Felix Gaillard told Prime Minister Macmillan last Tuesday that France is determined to follow through on her ambitions to become the world's fourth nuclear power.

The subject was said to have come up during a discussion of plans for the mid-December conference of NATO members scheduled in Paris. Informants said Macmillan still hopes the United States will be able to persuade the French to concentrate on other defense needs.

Sources described the positions of the three Western powers this way:

France wants to develop nuclear bombs partly for prestige. This resolve apparently was strengthened by the recent U.S.-British decision to send arms to Tunisia over strong French objections.

The United States and Britain, worried about the strained French economy and the costs of French efforts to quell the Algerian rebellion, believe Paris should avoid the heavy costs of nuclear development. Washington and London also believe that an international disarmament agreement will become more difficult as more powers begin to make nuclear weapons.

U.S. and British leaders have not expressed these views publicly.

French officials reportedly have been dropping broad hints that France may be ready to test an atomic bomb by the end of 1958, probably in the Sahara Desert.

The French magazine Entreprise reported yesterday that work on an A-bomb began in 1956 and said there will be a test-detonation next spring.

Cold Seeps Over Great Lakes Area

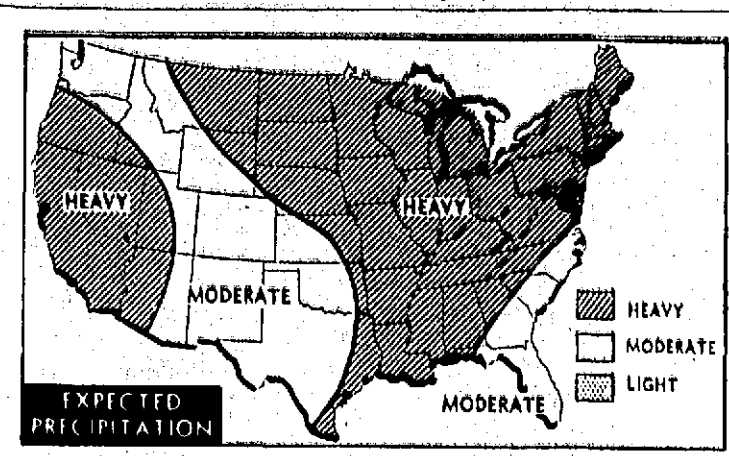

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A rush of cold air seeped into the lower Great Lakes, springlike weather held sway in the Northeast, rains doused a vast area east of the Ohio Valley and snow flurries fell in the northern and central Plains regions today.

Forecasters said the band of cold air would bring some of the season's lowest temperatures to Illinois, Indiana and parts of Missouri and Arkansas.

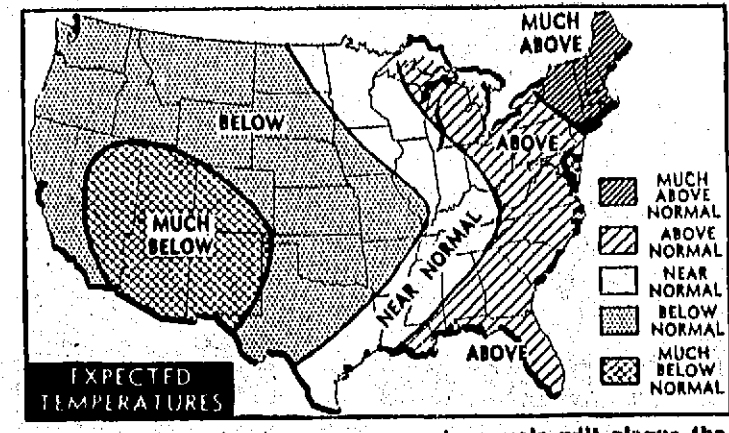

Behind the cold front, snow flurries were common in the Dakotas, Wyoming and northwestern Colorado. Ground blizzards struck parts of Wyoming and State Highway 220 was closed because of snow drifts.

In the New England area it was like spring. Temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s.

Rain extended southward along the East Coast through the middle Atlantic states and Florida and from the Ohio Valley to the middle Gulf Coast states.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over much of the nation in the next few weeks, much of it in the form of snow in western Lake region, Northern Plains and Rocky Mountain areas. Near-normal amounts of moisture are expected in the Pacific Northwest, the Southeast and Southern Plains states.

Temperatures below average seasonal normals will plague the western half of the nation until mid-December. The eastern third of the nation will experience above-normal temperatures, with New England getting much-above-normal treatment. Sandwiched in-between: a belt of near-normal temperatures.

Mohammed Is Silent on New Developments

By ROBERT E. FORD
DALLAS (AP)—King Mohammed V of Morocco maintained silence on international developments affecting his homeland today as he rested here before flying to visit the giant King Ranch in south Texas.

Sources with his party said the visiting ruler had received no official dispatches, and therefore felt unqualified to discuss reports of fighting with Spanish forces in Ifni, the troubled territory on Morocco's west coast.

Mohammed V was expected to have something to say later today, however, about two votes of confidence the French Assembly yesterday gave Premier Felix Gaillard on plans to retain French rule in rebellious Algeria—proposals already rejected by the rebels.

After a busy day in which he saw a sample of American industrial might, the King decided to stay in Dallas until mid-afternoon. He had planned earlier to leave this morning for the King Ranch. A spokesman said Mohammed was a bit weary and wanted to rest.

One source with the King's party said there was reason for grave concern in a reported order by Moroccan Crown Prince Moulay Hassan for the royal army to fight back against Spanish troops he accused of attacking Moroccan territory.

Spanish officials have claimed that Moroccan irregulars bent on freeing their colony of Ifni, on the western bulge of Africa, attacked Spanish outposts. Morocco laid the attacks to Ifni tribesmen.

Before the French Assembly votes of confidence, Premier Gaillard rejected a Moroccan-Tunisian offer for political mediation in Algeria, but welcomed help in achieving ceasefire in the three-year-old North African war.

While none with the visiting King's party was willing to be quoted, reaction to the Paris developments appeared to be a feeling that France was unwise in turning down a determined effort by Mohammed's government to ease tension in Algeria, Morocco's closest neighbor.

The King flew here from Williamsburg, Va., yesterday on a 16-day tour of the United States. In south Texas, his visit will be at the state's largest ranch, covering more than one million acres.

Says Russia Could Wipe Out New York

Ronnie Burke

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. secret agents believe Russia can fire a missile armed with an H-bomb from a submarine 500 miles at sea and all but wipe out a city like New York.

This evaluation of Russia's military might was one scrap of a top-secret report made to the Senate Military Preparedness Subcommittee Wednesday by the Central Intelligence Agency. The report shocked the seven senators who heard it.

One informant, who refused use of his name, said the CIA told the senators that Russia now has the capability of launching an intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) with an atomic or hydrogen warhead from a submarine. He set the effective range at 500 miles.

Another senator, who also heard the CIA report, said Russia has already put the IRBM into mass production and apparently has them in quantity.

The Navy, it was reported, is sure that it can detect and cope with any large-scale Russian submarine movements, which would foretell any major attack on the United States.

The report came after Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy gave the order to put both the Army Jupiter and the Air Force Thor IRBMs into full-scale production.

McElroy took the action under heavy pressure from Congress and the swift Russian missile advancements, despite the fact that neither the Jupiter nor the Thor have been fully tested. He said, however, that tests so far have warranted the gamble.

The CIA report, made at a closed-door session to the Senate subcommittee by CIA Director Allen W. Dulles and his top aides, covered Russian power in missiles, submarines and strategic bombers.

Reveals Soviet Ship Sank 2 Years Ago

COPENHAGEN (UP)—A 23,000-ton Soviet battleship sank in the Black Sea two years ago with loss of 1,500 lives, a Danish newspaper said today.

The Bonn (West Germany) correspondent of the Danish paper Berlingske Tidende said this was disclosed by Red navy Capt. Lev Predtchivsky who defected to Western Germany recently.

The ship was the 23,000-ton Novorossisk, formerly the Italian Giulio Cesare, the paper said.

According to the Russian view the ship was too weakly armed when delivered by Italy in 1948 and consequently it was "modernized" at the Nikolayev yard, getting such heavy guns that its seaworthiness was vastly reduced.

The disaster occurred when the ship was entering Sevastopol harbor after the autumn maneuvers in 1955.

Suddenly an explosion tore a huge hole in her side and the ship's commander was about to give the order to abandon ship when the deputy commander of the Black Sea navy, Admiral Panchomenko ordered all officers laid hands to stay aboard.

Two tugboats tried to ground the sinking warship on a sand barrier outside the harbor, but still in tow—the ship suddenly capsized and sank within four minutes, dragging 1,500 officers and crewmembers, who were caught below deck, to the bottom.

An investigation committee soon established the explosion was caused by a German mine from World War II.

Admiral Panchomenko, who had issued the fatal order that killed 1,500 sailors, was later court-martialed and degraded as responsible for the disaster, the newspaper said.

Wrong Data From the White House

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—After each of President Eisenhower's three illnesses, the White House first gave wrong information or only part of the truth, and then it stood for hours. Later it told the full story.

This happened after his heart seizure and lefts attack and now again after his mild stroke. But this time, when the White House attempted to tell the real story at last, it made a mess of it.

Eisenhower had his heart attack in Denver early Sept. 24, 1955. At 2 a. m., the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, was called to Eisenhower's bedside.

At 8 a. m. Snyder announced the President had a "mild digestive upset." At noon that day Snyder said the President's condition was "good" and again said he had a "digestive upset."

At 2:35 p. m. Murray Snyder, then Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, told newsmen the President had suffered a heart attack. Press secretary James C. Hagerty on vacation, flew to Denver and took over. He did a masterful job thereafter.

Eisenhower had a history of heart trouble. In the small intestine. He felt a stomach upset at 12:45 a. m. June 8, 1956. Over the phone Dr. Snyder prescribed a "slight dose of milk of magnesia."

Eisenhower didn't improve. At 2 a. m. Dr. Snyder went to the White House and stayed all night. At 8:50 a. m. Hagerty announced Eisenhower had an "upset stomach and headache this morning."

Again at 10:30 a. m. Hagerty described the President's condition as "not an illness but an upset" and said he had a "hunch" Eisenhower would go to his Gettysburg farm for the weekend.

At 12:25 p. m. Hagerty said Eisenhower was being taken to the hospital as a "preventive measure" and that the President's illness had been diagnosed as ileitis. Eisenhower was operated on the following morning.

When Eisenhower suffered a blockage of a small brain artery last Monday, Hagerty was in Paris. The assistant press secretary, Mrs. Anne Wheaton, announced at 6:30 p. m. that day that Eisenhower had had a "chill" and had been ordered to bed by his doctors. One of these doctors was Snyder.

Mrs. Wheaton said it was Dr. Snyder's decision to withhold any medical details until the following morning. She had a prepared statement when she talked. She refused to say who drew it up.

She met with reporters several times again that night and the following morning, Nov. 30, but provided no more detailed information. At 2:55 p. m. Tuesday she appeared before newsmen with a medical report.

This report revealed that Snyder and other doctors had examined Eisenhower the previous day and diagnosed his condition as a blood clot or occlusion (closure) in a blood vessel of the brain.

Nevertheless, the report given out Monday said Eisenhower had had a chill and made no mention of the doctors' diagnosis.

U. S. Moon Can't Be Seen by Naked Eye

BALTIMORE (AP)—The tiny test satellite the United States hopes to launch Dec. 4 will not be visible to the naked eye, but its five-foot-long brightly painted third-stage rocket will be seen.

It should provide plenty of opportunities for visual tracking as it trails the little beeping satellite across the heavens.

The third-stage rocket has been the most classified of all components of the 72-foot-tall, 22,000-pound Vanguard launching vehicle. But the Marlin Co., which built and will fire the rocket, gave a peek at it in pictures it released today showing the 6.4-inch, four-pound test sphere mounted on the rocket.

Only the nose of the rocket, which will be completely cloaked in an apron of the bigger second-stage rocket, is shown in the photograph. But it reveals a white spherical shape, about 12 to 13 inches across, on which the tiny satellite is mounted.

After about 40 miles of ascent, the seven-foot-long asbestos-plastic nose cone of the rocket will split in two and fall off, leaving the satellite exposed for the rest of its climb.

The nose cone will protect the satellite from aerodynamic heating expected to reach 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit through the earth's dense lower atmosphere.

The photograph also shows four rods which brace the satellite to the walls of the second-stage rocket at apogee.

At about 287 miles, just short of orbital altitude, a spin table, propelled by tiny jets, will start the entire third stage with its still attached satellite, rotating. After the first complete spin, the supporting rods will snap out of the way and leave the shiny aluminum sphere ready for its spring into space.

Adlai, Nixon Will Have to Bury Hatchet

WASHINGTON (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Adlai E. Stevenson will have to bury a good-sized political hatchet if they go together to next month's allied conference in Paris.

There are mixed feelings in political and official government quarters about putting together a Nixon-Stevenson "team" for the North Atlantic Treaty conference. Politicians doubt it can be done.

Politicians doubt it can be done but some government officials believe President Eisenhower's illness makes it essential that Stevenson go to the Paris conference to demonstrate American unity.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty kept hopes alive that Eisenhower might attend the Dec. 18-19 "summit" meeting. He said Thursday the President's doctors "will decide later" on whether he can make the trip. Hagerty said the Chief Executive would send Nixon in his place if he could not go.

Stevenson has not said he will or won't go with Eisenhower or Nixon. His position before the President's illness was that his plans would depend primarily on whether he could agree with administration proposals to tighten allied unity in the face of Russia's scientific-technical advances.

Because he has now set up a sort of bipartisan headquarters in the State Department it will be difficult for Stevenson to say he won't go if asked, some observers believe.

The President and Stevenson, his twice defeated Democratic presidential opponent, had many uncomplimentary things to say about each other in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns. But Nixon and Stevenson swapped licks which political observers close to both believe were more heart-felt.

Ike's Illness Adds to U. S. Recession

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's latest illness comes as the nation's economy admittedly is sliding into a recession. There is considerable uncertainty as to how deep and how long the downturn may be.

And some new uncertainties have now been added.

The stock market reacted at once and violently. But most of the first reaction was from professional traders—those who try to make part or all of their living from day-by-day stock trading. The early reaction apparently didn't involve the real investors.

Business leaders usually take calmer views than do the stock market pros.

Businessmen's first concern now is how much effect, if any, the illness may have on public confidence, since it is generally agreed that the great mainstay of the economy in the months of rolling industrial adjustment just ahead will be continued heavy consumer buying.

Economists specializing in retail trade doubt that there will be any effect on the Christmas trade just starting and meaning so much to stores whose year's profit record can be made or broken by it. They also see little reason for the economy in general to be affected — if the public's confidence in the economy isn't shaken.

But business is concerned over the new uncertainties in Washington. They note that the illness comes in the midst of another of the ever recurring international crises, which it had been hoped the President's scheduled visit to Paris would alleviate.

Business too has a stake in the budget and taxation discussions which reach a peak in December and in the legislative proposals that are drafted then. Industry wonders now what effect the illness may have on these.

In general hope is expressed that the President will recover quickly, and his assistants will carry out the international, budgetary and legislative programs without a bobble.

It is widely expected that defense spending will rise, aiding a number of industries by the middle of the year and helping to keep the adjustment rolling without too much economic pain.

Washington has predicted that unemployment this winter may rise above the four million mark. Employment now is around 66 million.

As a percentage of the total labor force four million unemployed wouldn't be considered alarming.

But try to tell that to a man out of a job!

A Tacoma, Wash., man who says he has been able to find work for only three months this year, challenges the official view that the business boom is leveling off.

Non-Partisan Probe No Idea of Symington

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UP)—The word today is that Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) takes a dim view of the idea that the Senate investigation of the defense missile program should be sweetly non-partisan.

Symington was secretary of air in 1947-50. Then and thereafter in the Senate, a personable St. Louis ducked a fight when he felt the air defenses of the United States needed a defender. He bucked the corners on such occasions.

These battles gave Symington a favorable political identity, sufficient to include his name among those contending in 1956 for the Democratic presidential nomination. Now comes the missile controversy set off by the Russian Sputniks. This controversy had the public's urgent attention from the moment it began. When a matter of national policy obtains the public sustained and anxious interest, there exists the substance of a so-called political issue.

So-called political issues win elections for political parties and make careers for political individuals. Symington apparently sees Democratic White House and all that clearly. The senator is a member of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee chaired by Sen. Lyndon W. Johnson (D-Tex.). Johnson opened the hearings this week with emphasis on the seriousness of the inquiry into missile and satellite development and his own disinterest in assessing blame.

What the committee would do, the chairman said, would be to find out what should be done to correct the missile situation.

"We will not," he added, "reach that goal by wandering up any blind alleys of partisanship."

Big Business Feels Easier About Expense

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Harassed corporation treasurers are breathing easier today now that they won't have to look up everyone's expense accounts for 10 months back.

It still intends to take a close look at big accounts it might find unreasonable. And starting five weeks from today it will insist on getting even the smallest and most ordinary ones.

It also plans to give closer scrutiny to the prize and awards that the boss may give for achievement, such as winning sales contest.

Protests from businessmen and their employees that past expense accounts had been filed at the corporate treasurer's office and forgotten led the Internal Revenue Service to reverse an earlier order that detailed reports on them be filed with the 1957 income tax return.

But with the reversal came the stern warning that "the long-standing rules which the revenue service has been following with respect to substantiation of deductions when a taxpayer's return is audited" still stands—and the service is getting tougher about them.

Tax agents in the field have been instructed to watch for omissions of big expense accounts and for questionable entries on the 1957 returns.

Starting Jan. 1, moreover, all employees whose expenses for the firm are paid by the boss must report the total on Page 2 of the 1958 tax return and attach an accounting of what the money was spent for.

Mental Test for GI That Killed a Girl

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—Specialist Gregory J. Kupski of Detroit, charged by the U. S. Army with the strangulation murder of a Japanese girl, is under military psychiatric examination, his defense counsel said today.

The counsel, Capt. James R. Robinson, 34, Ft. Collins, Colo., would not elaborate on the disclosure.

Robinson spoke at a 20-minute news conference. The 23-year-old soldier, who the Army says has confessed the crime, was at his side, neatly attired in a freshly pressed uniform.

"I can't speak too much Japanese," were the only words Kupski said in answer to a barrage of questions.

Kupski has been charged "with 'unpremeditated murder'" in the death of Kazuo Eikawa, 25, whose nude body was found in a Yokohama alley Nov. 17. The charge carries a maximum Army penalty of life imprisonment.

No clue to whether Japan or the United States will take jurisdiction was given, Robinson said. "The decision lies with the governments concerned." Both he and Kupski feel either nation would provide a fair trial, he added. The maximum Japanese penalty is death.

Robinson said the Army has granted permission for Kupski to re-enact the crime for Japanese police, but said he did not know if this will be done.

The case has attracted attention here because it posed a possible jurisdiction dispute between Japan and the United States in the wake of the internationally contested Girard firing range shooting.

The Yokohama procurator's office is still investigating but has not issued an indictment. There are indications the Army will relinquish jurisdiction if it does.

The dead girl was the wife of Robert Leslie Wescol, a U. S. Navy man now stationed at China Lake Naval Base in California.

Robinson said Kupski was convicted of petty larceny by the Army in April 1956 and demoted from Pfc. to private. He has no other civilian or military convictions, Robinson said.

Both Kupski and Robinson refused to say how long the soldier had known the murdered girl.

Woman Keeps Vow to Walk 387 Miles

ALVIN, Tex. (AP)—Undaunted by showery weather, slight Mrs. Manuela R. Carreon hoped to walk another 21 miles today on a religious pilgrimage down more than two thirds of the Texas coastline.

Her arrival here at dusk completed to second leg of a 387-mile hike started Wednesday at Galvestone, 32 miles east and a little south of Alvin.

Mrs. Carreon, 40 and from Texas City, Tex., is bound for the Mission de San Juan deep in the Rio Grande Valley. She vowed to the Virgin of San Juan she would make the trip on foot, she said, if her son was cleared of a murder charge.

Her goal for tonight was Angleton, Tex., but Mrs. Carreon has said she will rest wherever darkness finds her each night.

She trudged through chilly weather, clutching an imitation leopard jacket around her shoulders.

She appeared unperturbed at foregoing a Thanksgiving Day dinner with her family.

"My boy is free—that is enough turkey for me," she told a reporter. Besides, she explained, the Carreons had their holiday feast last week in the expectation she would be trudging down the high way later.

The pilgrimage was started after her eldest son Alfonso Carreon Jr., 27, was unjustly innocent of murder in a tavern slaying last Dec. 1. He had pleaded self-defense in a knife attack.

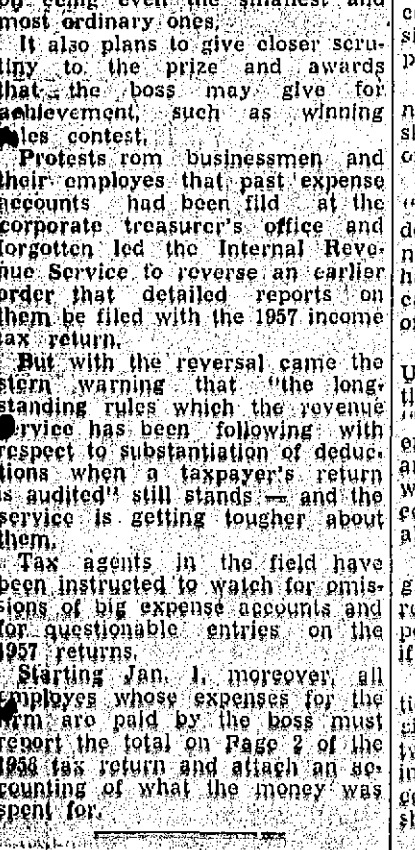

Every mother must make sacrifices for her children, the little mother said. "My boy is a good boy."

Superintendent J. Ed Smith
Rota'y Speaker

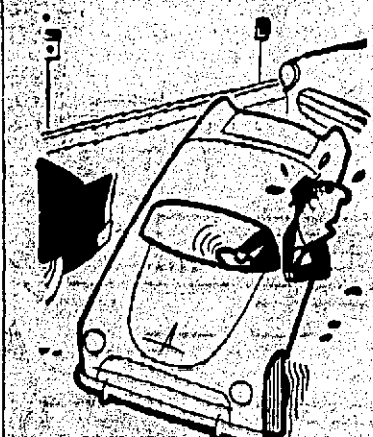

Archie Johnson had charge of the program at the Lawson Hotel Tuesday and introduced Supt. of Schools, J. Ed Smith as guest speaker. Mr. Smith explained the rotation of the earth in its orbit and other planets. He also explained about the path of the moon, the North star, the great dipper and the lesser dipper. He explained that the earth rotates on its axis once in each twenty four hours. The speed of the earth at the equator, is 1,000 miles per hour. In a year it is estimated the earth travels 150,000,000 miles. He explained that the earth inclines on its axis in its annual path at an angle of 23 1/2 degrees. The change in the position makes the four seasons of the year. At the present time we note that the nights are much longer and the days shorter due to the variation. He explained that the North Star appears to be fixed and can be located by the outer stars of the dipper always pointing toward it. His talk was instructive and interesting.

Mrs. Franklin Hatten
Cosmopolitan Hostess

Lovely gold and bronze chrysanthemums were used in beautiful arrangements to decorate the home of Mrs. Franklin Hatten when she entertained members of the Cosmopolitan club on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Henry Haynes serving as associate hostess.

Mrs. Haynes, president, presided over the business session and Mrs. Oliver Adams read the minutes and gave the treasurers report.

Mrs. L. B. Tooley reviewed a non fiction book, "Profile in Courage" by John F. Kennedy. The quiz on Guess Who was conducted by Mrs. R. L. Broach and won by Mrs. P. L. Perkins.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostesses invited the guests into the dining room for refreshments. A lace cloth covered the serving table and an arrangement of mums artistically arranged was used as the centerpiece.

Mrs. L. B. Tooley presided at the silver services where cranberry punch and coffee were served and Mrs. Jim McKenzie was at the opposite end of the table serving individual salad, dairy sandwiches and assorted nuts.

Mrs. Wheaton was emphatic in saying it was not a stroke.

She made a mistake — which had to be corrected later — by saying she thought the President's illness was a form of heart attack.

Hagerly flew back from Paris on Wednesday he was asked why the truth on the President's condition had been held up 24 hours. Hagerly replied that the doctors wanted to be sure of their diagnosis.

When he was asked if he would have handled White House announcements on Eisenhower's illness differently than Mrs. Wheaton, Hagerly said: "No, I don't think so."

Honek also said no more graves were, out of work, and it's getting worse every day." He is bitter about those who call this "a mild recession."

will be opened in Plainfield for at least 10 days.

Gein, 31, has confessed to authorities that he slew two middle-aged women and butchered their bodies at his Plainfield farm home. Together with remnants of their bodies and parts of corpses he robbed from nine women's graves. Gein had decorated his home.

Excavation of two graves was made last Monday, confirming Gein's grave-robbing story. At the conclusion of mental examinations, authorities will decide if Gein is sane enough to stand trial.

Honek's decision to question Gein was prompted by opinions held by some people that Gein could not have performed the grave robberies without the help of an accomplice.

Woman Shot by a Former Suitor

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP)—The mother of three children was shot and critically wounded on the front steps of her home here early yesterday, and police later arrested a man described as a former suitor.

Mrs. Iva Bennett, 23, a divorcee, was hospitalized at Harrison, where attendants today described her condition as poor.

Sheriff Jack Gregory said Mrs. Bennett was shot twice in the abdomen with a revolver after being called outside the house.

ADVERTISING PAYS—The classified ad (top) placed in a San Francisco newspaper, ended the fears of Joyce Lundie that her wedding in a strange town might be a lonely affair. Some 70 well-wishers responded to the plea and attended the ceremony at Calvary Armenian Congregational Church. Below, some of them are shown waving to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Blyklian, after the wedding.

BEER BEEFS UP BULL — Down the hatch of a junior yearling bull named Vermillion Supreme gurgles a bottle of beer served up by Bill Kiser of Waukesha, Wis., before the guzzler goes out to the show ring at the International Dairy Show in Chicago. Many exhibitors feed beer to their prize stock before judging competition, claiming it improves the animals' appearance. One showman says he pours a fifth of whisky into one of his prize bulls, and the "animal does real good."

Old Miss, Rice and Navy Need Wins for Bids

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Navy, Mississippi and Rice can claim bowl berths with victories tomorrow while Auburn, boasting a pure record but barred from post season play, shoots for college football's national championship.

Neither Navy, Mississippi nor Rice, have easy jobs ahead despite their national rankings.

The Middles (7-1-1) favored by three points, have to defeat Army
(7-1-0) to go to the Cotton Bowl.
Navy is ranked No. 8 in this week's Associated Press poll.
Army is 10th.

Navy has lost only to North Carolina and was tied by Duke.
The Cadets have been beaten only by Notre Dame (23-21).

Mississippi (8-1) ranked No. 7, can finish second in the Southeastern Conference by defeating Mississippi State (6-2) and get the Sugar Bowl berth. Auburn will have to pass up because of NCAA probationary action. State, a three point underdog, also could get the Sugar Bowl bid with a victory, but even with a not-too-bad defeat could be a Bowl candidate.

Rice (6-3) needs nothing short of a victory over Baylor (3-5-1)
for an undisputed Southwest Conference title and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. A loss or tie would send Texas to the Dallas classic New Year's Day now that the Longhorns have disposed of fourth-ranked Texas A&M (9-7) on Bobby Lackey's 38-yard field goal yesterday.

Should ninth-ranked Rice get only a deadlock against Baylor, Texas would tie for the title and advance to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of a 19-14 decision over the Owls. Both are virtually assured bowl berths, however, since the runner-up likely will wind either in the Sugar Bowl or Gator Bowl.

Auburn (9-0), bidding to retain
No. 1 in next week's final AP poll that decides the national title, goes against Alabama (2-6-1). The Tigers, naturally, will be SEC champs with a victory—but even the upset of the year probably won't save Coach J. B. Whitworth's job with "Bama. Paul Bryant, Texas A&M coach, indicated after the Texas defeat that he may switch to his alma mater.

Ohio State and Michigan State, both 8-1 and ranked second and third in this week's poll, have completed their regular seasons and only a shabby game by Auburn appears likely to hoist either one to the national title.

Arizona State (9-0), the only team left, plays Arizona (1-7-1).
Oklahoma (No. 5) is the only other member of the nation's top 10 teams still in business. The Sooners (8-1) play Oklahoma State
(6-2-1).

The Vanderbilt-Tennessee and Georgia-Georgia Tech games also nessee (6-3-0) and Tech (4-3-2),

DING HOUSE

With Major Hoople

WELCOME HOME, MARTHA! HOW SERENE AND SPRIGHTLY YOU LOOK! WE'VE ALL BEEN ENCHANTED BY COUSIN DAISY'S SKILLET MAGIC. UNFORTUNATELY SHE HAS WON THE CHAMPIONSHIP IN A FEW OTHER EVENTS TOO!

PLEASANT SURPRISE! THE PALACE HADN'T BURNED DOWN AND NO CROCODILES IN THE PARLOR! THE SAME OLD EASY CHAIR, CRUSHED A LITTLE CLOSER TO THE FLOOR FROM THE WEIGHT OF THE BIG SCALE-BUSTER! WALK IN, LOOK AROUND AND YOU FEEL LIKE YOU HAVEN'T GONE OUT THE DOOR FOR 40 YEARS!

LET'S HAVE A ROUND BY-ROUND!

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

I'M SUPPOSED TO TAKE A PINK ONE EVERY FOUR HOURS AND TWO GREEN ONES ALONG WITH A WHITE ONE EVERY TWO HOURS AND A PILLER, WHICH DID I TAKE LAST AND WHAT TIME WAS IT? I SAY DO... YOU REMEMBER!!!!!!

NO, I DON'T! I CALLED THE DOCTOR FOR YOU AND I GOT THE PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED, BUT I REFUSE TO TAKE A TIME STUDY OR KEEP A PILL-SWALLOWER'S DIARY FOR YOU!! YOU'RE ON YOUR OWN!!

GOD

It was said in the long ago that we brought nothing into this world and that we shall take nothing out. That is true for all material goods. It is false in the realm of the spirit. You and I are writing day by day the story that must forever be our history. We are garnering the harvests of the years and storing them in the granaries of heaven. As women and men come to the closing hours of life on the earth, they gather up the "fruit of the spirit." Love and joy and peace and longsuffering are not material. They are eternal goods.

How RICH ARE WE? When we stand before the heavenly cashier and ask for a statement, what will the little card carry as our record? Shall we hold in our hands a blank white card, with a dark background? Will the servant of the Most High say that our account stands at zero? How dreadful, when we discover we have been working and living for naught! But why wait? Most of us can guess what the bank account really is. Let's face that question now, for tomorrow we must know the final statement. Shall I make sure of my holdings in the divine treasure house? What is my harvest?
